Section D: Comprehension

Passage 1 (5 x 1 mark)

Read the passage.

How Mail Gets to You.

Do you know how letters get from place to place? After we put a letter in an envelope and write the address of the person, we must stick a stamp on the envelope. The stamp shows the postman that you have paid for him to deliver the letter. Then you put the envelope in a letterbox. A postman takes all the letters in the letterbox to the big post office.

In the big post office, a machine will arrange the letters that have the same postal code in the same bag. These letters will go to the same places.

The bags of letters are then taken onto trucks. Some trucks take the mail to aeroplanes at the airport. Such letters go to places far away. Other trucks take letters to the smaller post offices close by.

Postmen deliver the letters to the address on the envelope. That's how a letter gets to you!

Adapted from Social Studies Link in Houghton Mifflin

Passage 2 (5 x 2 marks)

Read the passage.

Daycare for Dogs

Many people love dogs. They keep dogs as pets. Sometimes they do not have time to take care of their dogs so they take their dogs to a daycare. Many people also take their dogs to a daycare because they have to be away for many days. Dog owners can drive their pets to a daycare in the morning. Some even take a bus to get there.

This is what happens to a dog which goes to a daycare. Dogs are kept busy at doggie daycare. There is even a pool for the dogs to take a splash with other dogs on a warm day. They may also take walks around the garden at the daycare. When a dog gets tired, it can stretch out and have a nap under a tree in the garden.

Doggie daycares are big so that dogs have lots of room to play. Dogs can run and jump outdoors. They can play indoors too. Dog owners can also pay to get them groomed. Dogs are given a shower or have their fur trimmed and they look neat and nice.

Dogs have lots of fun there. When they return home at the end of the day, the dogs are happy to see their families.

Adapted from Daycare for Dogs by Joseph Bruchac
