Section G: Comprehension (10 marks)

Read the passage carefully and answer Q31 to 40.

It was an ordinary Monday afternoon. I lived on the third floor and enjoyed walking up the stairs. It was quicker than waiting for the lift. On the second floor, I noticed a man climbing through a window into a flat. Shocked, I kept walking.

Once I reached my home, I dashed to the telephone. My 5 heart pounded madly as I told the police what I had seen.

Soon, two policemen arrived at my block. I walked excitedly to the second floor. To my surprise, the policemen were chatting with the 'burglar'. They were smiling. I found out that the man was the owner of the flat. He had lost his keys earlier 10 that day. I felt embarrassed and apologised to him.

"It's okay. Thank you for being a good neighbour. It could have been a real burglar," he said with a kind smile.

For Q31 and 32, put a tick (✓) in the box beside the correct answer.
